The Cosmic Slumber Tarot

BY TILLIE WALDEN

Published October 2020

“If the Universe were to sleep, where would Her dreams lead?”

Hand-painted and bursting with color, The Cosmic Slumber Tarot evokes imagery from subconscious and subliminal states. It's a tarot deck energised by a soulful warmth from award-winning comics sensation Tillie Walden.

Influenced by Manga and the animations of Studio Ghibli, Tillie's fairy tale style translates to a tarot deck that is gentle yet whimsical, psychedelic yet grounded, palpable yet surreal.

In Walden's own words: 'It was made with the intention of letting the tarot trace a path through the long, dark night of sleep. Because, in dreams, I really believe we walk the full spectrum of human experience. To me, dreams allow us to connect what does not fit together . . . because in consciousness we are limited by so much.'

White Numen: A Sacred Animal Tarot

BY ALBAG

Published January 2021

Inspired by ancient rituals and stories of sacred animal spirits, White Numen: A Sacred Animal Tarot forms a path to human reconnection with our natural world.

Our ancestors knew how to tremble in the presence of that little abyss within the eyes of a beast. They knew how to recognize the bond with creatures radically different from themselves, whom they venerated, but at the same time whose death meant food, thus life.

This ancient conflict reveals the connection between the sacred and the sacrificial and how rituals of cyclic regeneration evolved.

Today, humans continue to feel conflicted by our sometimes-violent relationship to the natural world. The images of Numen (sacred spirits) in this deck seek to symbolically close that wound – this is a new kind of ritual for healing and connecting.

The New Chapter Tarot

BY KATHRYN BRIGGS

Published March 2021

The New Chapter Tarot is a story, a journey, a self portrait of change.

'When I began working on a version of The Wheel of Fortune, it was a way to process a very complicated set of feelings: I had recently come to the realization that my relationship was ending and my life was at an either/or moment. I was an immigrant. On a marriage visa. With no professional contacts in my home country. Was I prepared blow up my entire life? Would I risk what was known, for what could be?'

'It was possibly the hardest decision I've ever been faced with. So I arted through my feelings, one card at a time, as they arose and presented themselves to be dealt with . . . Each card of this deck was a meditation in paint; a feeling arose and it became a card and was released.

'And 78 meditations later . . . a completed deck, a new life, a circle of Hope and Friendship and Love.'

WEEK 1 Getting Started

WEEK 4 Plunge into Color

Watercolor is a beautiful medium for creating soft, ethereal, and dreamlike scenes. In this week, we will explore the world of watercolor and learn how to create stunning landscapes and nature scenes. We will focus on using a variety of colors and techniques to create a sense of depth and atmosphere. The goal is to help you develop your own style and create works of art that are both beautiful and meaningful.

Day 2 A good wash day!

Painting a wash is a simple but powerful technique. It involves applying a single color to a piece of paper, allowing it to dry, and then applying another color on top. This creates a sense of depth and texture. In this section, we will learn how to create a wash and how to use it in your artwork.

Day 5 'Wet in wet' (Let it flow!)

The 'wet in wet' technique is a popular watercolor technique that involves applying a new color to a wet surface. This creates a soft, blended effect that is perfect for creating a sense of movement and flow. In this section, we will learn how to use the 'wet in wet' technique to create a variety of effects in your artwork.

Questions for reflection

1. How did you feel about the 'wet in wet' technique? Did you find it challenging or easy? 2. What did you learn from this week's lessons? 3. How do you plan to use what you've learned in your future artwork?

Day 6 Are you Seeing things?

In this section, we will explore the concept of 'seeing things' in watercolor. This involves looking at a scene and seeing it in a new way. We will learn how to use color and composition to create a sense of mystery and intrigue in our artwork. This is a fun and challenging exercise that will help you develop your artistic vision.

— Leah Crowley, Pagan Dawn

A book of the folklore, history and healing properties of common plants.

Throughout history, plants have played a key and vital role to our existence. Whether as a foodstuff, medicine, building material, or religious aid, the way that we re-purpose and domesticate plants has shaped a core part of the development of human culture.

Hedgerows and wild-growing areas are a vital part of our countryside and, through our codependency, have become ingrained in the myth and lore of humanity. Many of the old wives' tales about plants

The Spirit of Japan

Festivals, Rituals and Everyday Magic

WRITTEN BY SEAN MICHAEL WILSON
ILLUSTRATED BY FUMIO OBATA

Published June 2021

An introduction to the everyday magic found in Japanese rituals and spiritual practices.

Japan is sometimes called a ‘non-religious’ country, but this is only half-true . . . If we look closer, we find that ‘magic’ is very much a part of life in Japan!

Japan is alive with magical festivals, practices and rituals – from marking the liminal time of new year with the burning of last year’s objects . . . to smiling at the rebirth of the sun and nature in spring festivals . . . to respecting the dead ancestors via giving them offerings while chasing away demons.

“If we look past religion, we find that magical thinking, rituals and practice are very much a part of life in Japan.”

— Sean Michael Wilson

Many of these cultural practices are seen as mundane or normal, but they each express something sublime and numinous. Japanese rituals perform a powerful role in helping people deal with nature, time, seasons, aging and death – bringing a bit of everyday magic into everyday lives.

The Spirit of Japan is an accessible introduction to Japanese spiritual practice.
