

Pellerin Books

Translation Rights Catalogue 2026

Rights representation: Kate Nash Literary Agency.
For all rights enquiries, please contact Saskia Leach
(saskia@katenashlit.co.uk).

THE NEW YEAR SWIM AT HAVEN BAY

by Poppy Alexander

Rights sold: WEL (Pellerin Books), publishing 2027.

- 5-book 'Escape to Haven Bay' small town romance series by a bestselling author.
- Author's lifetime sales = 220,000+ units.
- Debut novel 25 DAYS IN DECEMBER optioned for film/tv.
- Perfect for fans of Julie Caplin, Cathy Bramley and Veronica Henry.

Author Rights History: Norwegian (Cappelen Damm); Swedish (Norstedt); German (Ullstein); Russian (Azbooka); Spanish (Editorial Kiwi).

On New Year's Day, in the freezing waters off the coast of Sussex, three generations of women make their resolutions.

Lily, twenty-eight and fiercely ambitious, has decided romance can wait. This year, she's going to get promoted. Her mother Jill, braced for an empty nest and a wedding anniversary her husband is sure to forget, has resolved to tidy the loft. Then there's Margot, Lily's grandmother, who's decided enough is enough: none of them will waste another minute on such pedestrian promises.

Margot proposes a pact. Before the year is out, each of them must do four things: something that scares them, something they've always dreamed of, something the others decide they need, and something for the one they love.

By the time next New Year's Day dawns over Haven Bay, three lives will be transformed. Because sometimes the bravest thing you can do is jump in with both feet.

The Amy Rowlings Golden Age Mysteries

by T.A. Belshaw

Rights sold: WEL (Pellerin Books)

- 8-book Golden Age cozy crime mystery series.
- Award-shortlisted author.
- Over 5 million page reads on Kindle.
- First 6 books in series publishing October 2026.
- 2 new titles coming in 2027.
- Perfect for fans of Verity Bright, Helena Dixon and Agatha Christie.
- Books can be read in any order.

Meet Amy Rowlings: quick-witted movie buff, avid reader of crime fiction, and amateur sleuth.

January 1939. When clothing-factory heir Edward is found murdered, introverted mill worker Amy finds herself at the top of the suspect list. The man had many enemies, but Amy was the most recent victim of his wily ways.

Luckily, as a certified lover of Agatha Christie novels, she's perfectly capable of clearing her name.

Impressed by her skills, Detective Sergeant Bodkin accepts Amy's investigative aid. But when he arrests an innocent man, Amy decides to take matters into her own hands.

As Amy clashes with Bodkin's rigid, facts-only investigation (yet charmed by the good-looking detective), she must unmask the real killer before the winter snow covers their tracks for good.

UNDER THE AMALFI SUN

by Georgie Capron

Rights sold: WEL (Pellerin Books)

- 35,000+ lifetime unit sales for author.
- Interlinked uplifting and emotional page turners, bound together by everyday realism, multiple layers of emotion and Georgie's ability to conjure real women's lives. Two more page turners coming 2027.
- Perfect for fans of Cecelia Ahern, Dani Atkins and Paige Toon.
- 1,200+ reader reviews and 4.5/5 average star rating.

"Heartwarming and emotional, with characters to fall in love with... A delight," - Faith Hogan.

UNDER THE AMALFI SUN: One Italian summer. Two very different men. The biggest decision of her life.

JUST THE TWO OF US: She planned to have a baby on her own. She didn't plan on falling in love...

THE LOVE I WISHED FOR: What if everything you ever wished for turned out to be loneliest place of all? And what if the life you dreamed of wasn't the one you needed?

GIRL IN THE MACHINE

by M. K. Hill

Rights sold: WEL (Pellerin Books)

- A futuristic, speculative sci-fi thriller full of action and twists.
- 100,000 lifetime unit sales for author.
- The Times Crime Book of the Month with THE BAD PLACE (all translation rights available).
- Translation rights available to 7 of author's titles.
- ZERO KILL in production with Sister Productions (Black Doves) and Netflix.
- Perfect for fans of John Marrs, Stuart Turton and Blake Crouch.
- Author was a journalist and an award-winning music radio producer.

Author Rights History: German (Blanvalet), Polish (Amber Wielkie Literary); Czech (Ikar); Norwegian (Cappelen Damm)

The nation's biggest unsolved case. A retired detective who never let it go. And a dead girl who just came back.

It's 2064 and Harry is alone. His wife is gone, he's trapped in a care home run by an all-seeing AI and the world outside has gone to hell. When the staff foist a Flickering Friend on him, a hologram companion designed to keep the old folk docile, Harry wants nothing to do with it.

But then something strange happens. The hologram glitches and in its place appears a teenage girl. A girl Harry recognises, who vanished 40 years ago in the case that destroyed his career and has haunted him every day since...

To find out the truth, he'll have to leave the safety of the twelfth story of Albert Care Home and step into a world far more dangerous than the one he remembers. And what he discovers about Rhea's disappearance will upend everything he thinks he knows.

THE STRANGE LIVES OF ELEANOR TEAGUE

by M. K. Hill

Rights sold: WEL (Pellerin Books)

- 100,000 lifetime unit sales for author.
- The Times Crime Book of the Month with THE BAD PLACE (all translation rights available).
- Translation rights available to 7 of author's titles.
- ZERO KILL in production with Sister Productions (Black Doves) and Netflix.
- A haunting, high concept, gothic psychological thriller, with a jaw-dropping twist, perfect for fans of John Marrs, Gillian McAllister and Stuart Turton.
- Author was a journalist and an award-winning music radio producer.

Author Rights History: German (Blanvalet), Polish (Amber Wielkie Literary); Czech (Ikar); Norwegian (Cappelen Damm)

1876. Eleanor Teague lives in a lonely house far from the glamorous London Society she once knew. Confined to Haddon Hall by agoraphobia, bedevilled by nightmares of the death of her daughter, and haunted by the guilt of a terrible crime she committed, Eleanor depends on the household servants and her husband Ezra, who is kind, patient...and controlling.

But when an apparition appears at her bedside and mysterious voices urge her to find the 'Shadow House', she's convinced an uncanny presence dwells within the walls of Haddon Hall and that the staff are lying to her. They, in turn, fear she's descending into madness.

As Eleanor's world starts to fracture, the very foundations of Haddon Hall seem to shake. Why is the attic room locked? What is the Shadow House? Who is the strange woman in the woods? The shocking truth will shatter everything Eleanor thought she knew about her life.

THE WRITER'S SECRET

by G. R. Hampton

Rights sold: WEL (Pellerin Books)

- More than 120,000 lifetime unit sales for author.
- Multi-POV narrative about dark obsessions and the cost of survival.
- Domestic psychological suspense featuring characters with juicy secrets and multiple satisfying twists.
- Perfect for fans of Lisa Jewell, JP Delaney and AJ Finn.
- Set between Edinburgh, London and Sussex.
- Film/tv rights also available.

The best fiction has a hint of truth.

Emma Beresford has the perfect life: a gorgeous house, a devoted husband and a thriving career as a novelist. Everything is in order...except for the rampant threats by a sinister stalker.

Poppy Wallace is a sharp journalist who knows a fabrication when she sees one. After interviewing the elusive author, Poppy is suspicious of Emma's glamorous facade. Like any good journalist, she begins digging into the author's history, unaware of how close to home the secrets are...

Karen Palmer is a young, single mother trapped in a nightmare relationship. To protect her child, she's forced to make an agonising choice, one that triggers a deadly chain of events headed straight for Emma and Poppy...

Three women. Three secrets. One explosive truth.

